The collection
The University Library's mission
Széchenyi István University University Library aims to support education and teaching in the university as an information centre. It also assists researches, academic works, lifelong learning and civilization. The library assures the access of both Hungarian and foreign documents as the institution of knowledge based society.

Document types in the Library

The collection of the Library is according to its mission. The collection of almost 300,000 volumes contains different types of documents:

- Books: literature in Hungarian and foreign languages; lecture notes; polite literature in Hungarian and foreign languages; dictionaries.
- Periodicals: almost 700 periodicals in Hungarian and foreign languages (daily and weekly papers, journals).
- Theses, PhD dissertations: the Library collects the theses and dissertations of the students of the university written more than 5 years ago.
- Standards: printed and online version.
- Notes: the primary aim is to support the music education in the University.
- Maps: the collection contains 1290 maps
- CDs, DVDs, cassettes: appendices of books or independent documents
- Databases: subscribed by the Library, accessable only in the campu and public ones.

The collection

The larger part of the collection is settled in the Central Library. The deposit libraries contain the literature of the studies taught in the given department. Documents in the library of Deák Ferenc Faculty of Law and Political Sciences and of Varga Tibor Institute of Music Art cannot be borrowed; they can be used in the library during the opening hours.