

Szaktudás Press

We are pleased to inform you that Szaktudás Press trial access from 3 May to 31 December 2024

to the Századvég and Martin Opitz databases.

Martin Opitz Publishers was founded in 2003 specifically to publish scientific books. Their subjects include history, history of religion, sociology of architecture, history of literature, history of law, linguistics, history of weapons, archaeology, art history and numismatics. In terms of genre, there are also large monographs and doctoral dissertations, conference publications and festschrift, art albums and collections of anecdotes written with a scholarly focus.

The Századvég publishing house's range of works is expanding every year and includes works by both domestic and foreign authors. It focuses primarily on publishing the writings of domestic authors who are of broad interest to the domestic public in the fields of history, political science, sociology and philosophy.

More information

<https://www.szaktars.hu/szazadvég/>
<https://www.szaktars.hu/martinopitz/>

SZÁZADVÉG